

Here we go round again!

Don't get taken for a ride

The Washington State Legislature's record on K-12 employees keeps getting worse:

They cut our jobs.

They increased class sizes.

They eliminated cost-of-living increases and reduced our pay.

They cut K-12 education.

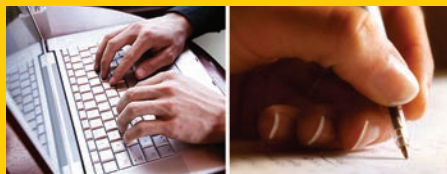

At a time when they are scrambling to balance the budget and failing yet again to fully fund basic education – their paramount responsibility – politicians are pushing to create a health care super agency that will cost taxpayers millions.

State Senators are pushing for the state Health Care Authority to take over K-12 employee health care. It will eliminate our current health care plan and force us into a new health care bureaucracy that will increase our costs, reduce our health care choices and cut our benefits. It will eliminate health insurance entirely for thousands of part-time employees. Don't get taken for a ride!
